As a country that exports to the United Kingdom the goods subject to review, Brazil is interested in participating in the process, contributing to it with comments, and having access to relevant documentation circulated.

Additionally, Brazil has been actively contributing to international efforts to promote the sustainability of the steel industry around the world. In 2022, Brazil is serving as one of the Co-Chairs of the Global Forum on Steel Excess Capacity (GFSEC), a multilateral platform to discuss and find collective solutions to the challenge of excess capacity and enhance market functioning in the steel sector.

Brazil fully participates in other United Kingdom's trade remedies investigations on its steel exports, such as the transition safeguarding review on certain steel products (TF0006), in which Brazilian products were recently excluded from the application of the safeguards in the categories to which they were subject to.
